

CUH Volunteers' FRIDAY BULLETIN

14 July 2023

New female Muslim Prayer area in Chapel

The Chapel is open 24/7 and offers a space for people to pray, seek stillness and collect their thoughts. In response to feedback and in collaboration with representatives from the CUH Muslim community, the Chaplaincy team has designated a new area for female Muslim prayer. It is located in the far left corner when entering from the Costa/M&S entrance. This should ensure a more suitable provision that better meets the requirements of our female Muslim patients, visitors, and colleagues.

Non-English Language books

With Cambridge being such a wonderfully diverse community with many people living, working, studying and visiting the city from overseas, it is no surprise we have patients who do not speak, or whose first language isn't English.

We are keen to be able to offer library books to all our patients and so are looking for donations of foreign language books please. As always, they need to be paperbacks and in good condition.

Your chance to have your say - Addenbrooke's Roundabout

The Greater Cambridge Partnership are undertaking a consultation on altering the design of the Addenbrooke's roundabout with the aim of widening pedestrian and cycleways on Fendon Road, replacing the staggered crossing on Babraham Road and reducing the roundabout's central island.

The consultation is available at https:// www.greatercambridge.org.uk/ and closes at midday on Monday 24 July 2023.

